Alongside lots of practising for our Nativity performances, we have been working hard on our Christmas inquiry surrounding Incarnation. We welcomed a special visitor when Mrs Mullet brought baby Ophelia to talk to us about how to prepare for a baby. We listened carefully and designed our own baby rooms. We sequenced the Nativity story and wrote newspaper headlines for each part of the story. We have considered how the shepherds might have felt and what they might have said when the angels spoke to them. We have also considered what makes a good king and how Jesus is an example for kings around the world.

Dosbarth Dwynwen have worked incredibly hard to learn their lines and take on lead roles in our fabulous Christmas concert - Simply the Nativity. I'm sure you all thoroughly enjoyed our productions earlier this week!!

In Literacy, we have read - and watched scenes from - the Polar Express. We thought about what we could see and chose ambitious adjectives to include in our poetry writing. We learnt about similes and how to use commas in lists of adjectives which we used in our Poems.

We have also been very busy preparing for Christmas. We have made Christmas cards, decorations, snowman lanterns and crackers! We had a party afternoon with Christmas games in the hall - lots of fun had by all.

We hope you all have a restful Christmas break and a very happy New Year.
